Levine Planning Strategies, LLC, is a small, New England-based firm committed to building communities by using data and effective planning tools. So often, planning processes are seen as battles. Instead, we see them as conversations, with a goal of coming up with solutions.

Whether helping a developer coordinate a good concept into implementation, or working with municipal staff on their land use code, or helping a community develop realistic and dynamic policies and plans, we see the value of planning for developers, and the value of developments to implement plans.

We care about what we do, and want to make sure good projects get done! We know that many cities and towns are on tight budgets. For that reason, we are always happy to discuss how to make our services affordable.
